Blackfoot Camp News

The B.Y.P. Blackfoot Camp opened with real enthusiasm. With the ringing of the 6.30 gong, all rose prepared for a big day.

Each day morning worship was held before breakfast. This was conducted by Prof. Brightbill. Through a study of hymns and songs a greater spirit and understanding of them was obtained.

A very enjoyable time was spent during meals when there was a lively exchange of jokes, stories, songs and readings.

Two inspiring periods occurred following breakfast. These were the Bible Hour followed by open forum. Group Worship was the theme of the first Bible hour centering in chapter six of Isaiah. Worship was defined as life experience, reality, living with God, worship. It means talking and living with God. Prayer is the heart of worship. Isaiah six was the cycle of experience in worship. It was pointed out how Isaiah had first; a vision of God's Deity and h. w. we should apply this to our own lives. The prelude or call to worship must be meditative, not used as footrag to auditorium. Solid harmonies must be played—no thin soup. The opening song must be associated with God.

Humility was the natural outcome of Isaiah's vision. A hymn of penitence should be used here.

Isaiah's next experience was that of vitality. This may be applied in our offerings, which should not be collections.

Next came illumination to Isaiah. There must be a challenge in sermons, talks, and poems.

Lastly Isaiah experienced Dedication—the victorious life in Christ which we should also experience.

Open forum was conducted by Rev. Brightbill. Ten steps were indicated, numbering from one to ten, number one white, representing right; number ten, black, representing wrong. The numbers in between were the shades of gray or the degrees of right and wrong. It was voted by the campers as to which number certain evils as murder, infatuation, dancing and untruthfulness should belong. Then it was indicated that we should never be satisfied with shades of gray. The Grace of God is given only to those looking at number one, the Right.

It was pointed out how fallacious it is to depend on certain requisites for membership. This was illustrated by a good brother who depended upon a certain form of dress, beard, etc., but turned out to be a bad character. Another thought was that we should not become

Remember We Still Truck Anything Anywhere

HANGE is the prime essence of a vacation and a canoe trip is one method by which it can be obtained. Daily life can be experienced in a more peaceful, carefree existence. It may be for a limited time only, but it is available the year round. Just like crowds, rumble of traffic, hot pavements and heated air have no place in the life of the canoeist.

A large number of interesting routes are outlined in "Canoe Trips in Canada," a booklet recently issued by the National Parks Commission, Department of the Interior, Ottawa. Following the routes described there may be a chance to live like a trapper, or to travel along the coast or across the strenuous peaks of the Rocky Mountain. There are routes which lead through stream and lake with alternating civilization and lightly wooded country. There are long, smooth flowing rivers and placid lakes on which one can travel for days and even again break into foaming rapids and thundering falls. There are routes through the most rugged country along routes once followed by Indians and fur-trader, now almost forgotten, but still well travelled. Strange geological formations, with life, fishing, shooting, trapping, and the picturesque await the advent of one's canoe on the numerous and varied water trails of Canada.

McDonald's Garage At Mossleigh Razed by Fire Thursday

At 11:30 last Thursday evening fire broke out at the east end of Gordon McDonald's garage at Mossleigh. Mr. Gordon Journey first noticed the fire and gave the alarm. Fortunately there were a number of husky men near by who proved such willing workers. All set to and were able to clear the workshop of its contents, including a lathe, before the fire reached that end of the building. It was indeed fortunate that all the machinery was removed as Mr. McDonald carried no insurance.

Mr. McDonald is grateful to all those who so kindly gave assistance and whose good work prevented a possibly greater conflagration.

Buffalo Hill News

Mr. Frank McInally had the misfortune to lose a saddle horse last Saturday morning, which was killed by a bull. At about 6:30 a.m. the bull broke through the fence and was proceeding down the road towards Mr. McInally's pasture. Mr. McInally's son, Percy, mounted his pony and went to turn the animal back and when they were about 40 feet away it charged the pony, inflicting a gash in the horse's neck, 6 or 8 inches long, piercing the jugular vein, with the result that it bled to death in a few minutes. Percy was thrown about 15 feet, but outside of being badly shaken up, was unharmed and able to reach the bridge over the Arrowwood Creek, where he was safe from the bull, which had become angered by the smell of blood. Mr. McInally and another son, Martin, who were a quarter of a mile away, saw what was going on and lost no time in mounting other saddle horses and hastened to the rescue, but found that Percy was safe. Mr. McInally had the bull shot down at the scene.

It was indeed fortunate that all the machinery was removed as Mr. McDonald carried no insurance.

We regret to hear that Mr. Donald Sinclair had his arm broken while in Calgary a few days ago. He was knocked down by a light delivery truck, the driver being to blame. Mr. Sinclair was taken to the hospital, where he remained for a couple of days. He is home now and is progressing favorably, although he will be unable to do anything for a time, as he received severe bruises in the accident. We hope he will make a speedy recovery.

Mr. Virgil Adair, accompanied by a relative and some friends from Medicine Hat, made a trip to Northern British Columbia, seeing the country and looking over the prospects of a damper climate, where feed for stock is more abundant. They returned late Saturday, being away eighteen days and travelled depression style, le via C.P.R. side-door pullman, covering a distance of between eight and nine hundred miles. They saw a whole lot on their tour—were satisfied that they had made the trip and more satisfied than ever with their and in the dry Southern Alberta district. Mr. Adair said he would not trade his quarter section down here for a dozen up there. He said one man had to haul soil from a distance to build up his pieces of land for a garden. The soil in the Caribou River valley, near Adershot, is poor, with rock close to the top soil, which is almost nil, mainly casey and is covered with jackpine, which thrives on a light, poor soil.

Mrs. O'Neill and daughter, of Calgary, and Mrs. Gordon McGregor of Turner Valley, visited Arrowwood and visited at the home of Mrs. M. McInally last week. Mrs. O'Neill is Mrs. McInally's sister.

While three 13-year-old English boys were playing in a garden one of them fell into a cucumber frame and severed both arteries in his foot. One of his companions, a Boy Scout, immediately applied a tourniquet and sent the boy for a doctor. A half hour passed before the doctor arrived. The doctor declared certain that the lad would have bled to death but for the Scout's prompt action.

Economic News In Fashion

Periodically, organizations throughout the country pass resolutions de-crying the treatment of certain news by the public press, but, as a rule, these are ill-advised (however fine the motive behind them) for the simple reason that the press itself is the finest barometer of public opinion. Newspapers could not exist if they did not reflect the attitude of the public. Public, while they eat, they could not exist as profit-making institutions; were it not for the fact they keep a wary finger on the flickering pulse of the fickle reading public they serve. The success of a daily newspaper depends upon its ability to give the public what it wants. That's why it is important that the criterion of success in the news media be held.

The "writer" of the news varies from time to time, and the taste of the newspapers must vary with them. Hence, news fashions change, as fashions in clothing change; and it is extremely diverting to study the changes as they appear in the columns of the daily press.

Two weeks or two ago, H. R. Knickerbocker, well-known European correspondent of the New York Times, arrived in England to write a series of articles for Hearst newspapers on the economic recovery of Great Britain. In the course of an interview, he said:

"One of the most remarkable things that has happened to the American Press since the depression started has been the public demand for economic news. Before 1929, nobody cared much, but when the slump hit America, it became a hot topic."

"Economic news was considered as important as the latest sensational movie story. Whether the readers understand it or not, I don't know, but Americans have acquired a sudden curiosity to know what is happening to the rest of the world. Consequently, newspapers make a regular feature of analyses of foreign economies."

Students of political trends had been struck with this popularization of economic news in the United States, particularly through the writings of Walter Lippman, perhaps the most famous of all the commentators of economic events. In Canada, during the same period, a similar tendency has been remarked, the manifestations of which, perhaps, have been more abundant for reasons which are not far to seek.

Students of political trends have demonstrated clearly that the public is more eager to absorb information on economic matters, more desirous of listening to economic discussion from the public platforms than ever before.

This is naturally due to the fact that the source upon which the public relies for its economic news is more diverse than heretofore. They have become acutely aware of the fact that anything affecting the economic condition of the English textile worker, the French vineyard laborer, the coal-miner of Scotland or Wales, sooner or later, is reflected in their own economic condition. They know now that anything which affects the price of a pair of shoes, an automobile, or a new suit will affect the price of their home.

World economic news has assumed new and more important proportions in the eyes of the Canadian people. The vital importance of a healthy world economy has become all too obvious. Consequently, when news turns bullish, when word comes that Britain is shuffling off the coils of depression, the public begins to wonder something more than the evanescent interest of the market mystery or the world money drama.

Political movements, too, have had their genesis in economic discontent; hence it is only natural that economic discussion should attract an ever widening public. The one drawback to the new fashion lies in the fact that economic, so far, has not been reduced to an exact science, whose principles can be easily learned and understood by the layman. For that reason, it is essential that the commitment to any specific theory and follow, not precede, complete study of economics, not as it has been advanced through economic history. The truth cannot be determined by any one set of theories, but by analysis of all theories so far advanced from time immemorial. Smith to those of latter-day Socialists. Such analysis should be made with the same care and intensity, as would be given to political history; not in the field of statecraft alone, but in the wider field of trade and commerce, particularly during the last century and a half.

Mosquitoes Hate Yellow

Avoid This Color But Adore Navy Blue And Red

If you would be free from mosquitoes, then they simply hate it. However, you would like to receive the attentions of the little blighters, just wear navy blue, which they do not like. They keen on dark colors, like black, blue, orange and white and orange are best and yellow makes them bilious. These findings, states the Canadian National Steamships, have developed from recent studies and the company recommends yellow suits and light topes for tropical travel where mosquitoes are liable to abound.

Successful Candidate

Continuing the political campaign in the incomparable state of Kansas, says the New Yorker. One candidate for the state legislature boasted of his honorable discharge from a local madhouse. In every stump speech, he would endow the demented tramp with the power to prove I'm not crazy," he would cry. "Can my opponent say the same?" P. E. He got the job.

Wealthiest Man In World Paying Visit To England

The richest man in the world is shortly to pay a visit to London. He is not an accidental magnate but a mighty Indian potentate, ruling over a domain as large as England. He is His Highness the Nizam of Hyderabad.

This is his first visit to Europe and he will bring over an entourage of 300 people, which includes thirty-five wives who enjoy the title of sultana. The Nizam is to be strictly in privacy, so no white man can look on their faces.

A special liner has been chartered and men in advance are negotiating to take over a whole London hotel party.

Nobody knows the extent of the colossal wealth of the Nizam. Fantastic stories are current that the entire value of his domains exceed two billion dollars are lined with gold and silver bullion.

He rules over the millions of his subjects with a firm autocratic hand, which has won him once more the admiration of the British. He is a man of many talents, a skillful agriculturist, a good horseman, a learned in agricultural affairs. Mr. McMillan gained his early education in India, and after graduation attended the Ontario Agricultural College from 1901 to 1903. He then became a student of the University of Toronto, and in June, 1906, became the staff of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, an representative of the Seed Branch in Alberta and British Columbia. There he introduced seed and seed field competitions in Alberta, and organized the first seed field competition in British Columbia. In March, 1911, he was transferred from the Seed Branch to the Experimental Farm, his first assignment being to the Brandt Experimental Farm, his present position. In 1914 he became the first director of the Faculty of Agriculture in the University of Alberta.

Under the amended regulations of the Department of Agriculture, he was granted a seat on the board of governors of the Canadian Seed Growers Association. In 1919 he became the first president of the Canadian Seed Growers Association.

He was appointed to the Colonization Finance Corporation, vice-president of the Alberta First Aid Committee and president of the Lang Tanning Company of Kitchener, Ontario.

Two Colorado Convicts In Test To Determine Value Of New Serum

Two Colorado convicts were condemned that they had won a wager with death in a series of tests to determine the value of a new serum its discoverer hope will prevent tuberculosis.

The convicts, Carl Erickson and Carl Schmidt, who have gained weight and are in good health again, they have taken several doses of the serum and live tuberculosis bacilli have been injected into their blood.

The life term convicts were told they had won a bet that the experiments had become subjects of experiments after Governor Ed. C. Johnson promised them pardon if they survived.

Rung By Radio Signal

Admiral Byrd Fleeted Signal To Determine Value Of New Serum

American's foremost historical relic, the Liberty bell in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, was rung by a radio signal from Admiral Byrd during the Independence Day broadcast to the nation. The signal was sent from the VBC-Columbia network, July 4.

Special permission to ring the bell was obtained from Mayor J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, who spoke during the broadcast. Byrd situated at his lonely research base 123 miles from the nearest habitation, sent a signal to Independence Hall.

Engineers of WCAU, CBS station in Philadelphia, arranged to "feed" the electrical impulse to a hammer which struck the liberty bell. Its tone was heard not only throughout the United States and Canada, but also in Little America.

Small Place In Holland Keeps Ringing Loudly

Six times now within the past month the bell has been rung, but it has been reduced in the village of Liedorp, near Leiden, in Holland's bulb growing district. It is known as prairie village. School fees and marriage taxes are the chief causes of the noise which has all come down. Only 75 of the 2,700 inhabitants are "on the dole" and they earn their allowance and keep themselves occupied by draining the swamps and by entering villages free. A turpentine man collects a small charge from every stranger who would come inside.

Should Take Pride In Preservation Of Purity Of Our Language

The person who speaks correctly to-day, or writes what is called "good English", is probably writing in a manner that is more or less correct.

But the language is not perfect. There are many words and terms in English which we have not yet understood.

But basically our English is their English, and we should take a decent pride in the fact in the preservation of a magnificent asset and the maintenance of a splendid tradition—Ottawa Journal.

A millionaire railway is being built in the new Cuban-White Star liner No. 534, on which more than 2,000 men are working night and day to have ready for launching on September 26. The liner will sail direct from the starting point at the stern and will be used to carry up the massive propeller shafts to the spot where they are to be fitted.

the Sky Line Trail. Hikers on the Canadian Rockies.

From humble beginnings, the local bargain coach excursion line of the Canadian Pacific Railway has spread until public response is enthusiastic right across the Dominion. Almost record figures were reached for the past Dominion Day vacation and every weekend sees similar reception of the idea in all sections of Canada.

Soft Water Saves Soap and Clothes

Household laundry costs, as well as the wear and tear on clothes, can be materially reduced by using soft water instead of hard water.

Water containing hardness wastes a great deal of soap because the lime and magnesia always combine with soap and change it to "curls". These curls stick to fabrics and make them grayish, harsh and rank-smelling.

Water is very deceptive in appearance. It may look clean and pure and yet contain hidden impurities. The most troublesome of these are compounds of lime and magnesia which cause the hardness in water.

To prevent waste of soap to improve the quality of laundry work — to reduce the life of linens, garments, etc. — it is necessary to use water from which all hardness has been removed. In water that has been completely softened it is possible to have it today there are no impurities to destroy soap and no lime curds to injure clothes.

Besides prolonging the life of washables by using soft water, you can count on a 50 per cent saving of soap. That is why small type water softeners are proving so popular in modern homes. And, of course the same perfect cleansing qualities of soft water make themselves felt in practically every other household operation where water is used.

Modern beauty and hairdressing parlors now use soft water for shampoos and other treatments. Soft water completely softens whatever particles of foreign matter that may adhere to the scalp and hair as well as assuring perfect dissolution of the soap after the treatment is finished.

Here and There

S. S. Empress of Japan arrived at Victoria recently with one of the largest passenger lists in the past three years. There was a total of 577 passengers, including Honobumi. The liner was also heavily booked for the westbound trip from Vancouver and Victoria.

Speaking at Toronto recently before members of the International Builders' Owners and Managers' Association, E. W. Beatty, E.C., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railways, doubted the wisdom of "too elaborate planning" in not allowing the Canadian Pacific to do what it wanted to do, and said that the present system of society was wrong except in the "way in which it is applied."

The Canadian Pacific Railway celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the completion of its transcontinental line next year. It was announced recently that Donald A. Smith, later Lord Strathcona, drove the last spike at Cross Roads, joining east to west and north to south.

Hon. Charles A. Dunring, vice-president and general manager of the Canadian Equitable Life Insurance Company, Quebec, has been elected a director of Barclays' Bank, Canadian branch, and the Hon. George M. Miller, minister of Finance is also president of the Ontario Equitable Life Insurance Company.

After one of the most remarkable and interesting ever held by a religious body, the Oxford Group left the Baden Springs Hotel, East Baden, Monday, and most of them sailed from Quebec by S.S. Empress of Australia. Mr. Englehardt, leader of the group, will be held at Oxford July 1-4.

Speaking at the Admiral Beaty Hotel, Saint John, Sir William Galt, president of the Canadian National Railways, claimed that the real sources of Canada's trouble in connection with agriculture and agriculture lay in the un-economic expansion of agricultural areas by the larger countries, especially some of the larger European countries which are now bankrupt.

Music moonlight, glorious lake breezes with 400 miles of sailing on the Canadian Pacific's Great Lakes, the Assiniboine, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are at the disposal of passengers on the company's new summer air line to Europe. The offer promises to be very alluring to Canadians and visitors to the Dominion as well.
